SOURCE Spring 2024 Calendar:

- February 13, 2024: Discussion with Anastasia Karel, Chair of the SAA's Mentoring Subcommittee on the SAA's Mentoring Program
- February 27, 2024: Lecture and Q&A on bloggERS!, the blog of the SAA's Electronic Records Section, with James Truitt, Member of the Editorial Board
- March 18, 2024: Lecture and Q&A on the Academy of Certified Archivists' Certification Program with Adriana Cuervo, the Associate Director of the Institute of Jazz Studies at Rutgers University - Newark
- April 9, 2024: Alumni Panel with Annamarie Klose, Metadata Initiatives Librarian at The Ohio State University, Alisa Kraut, Artifact Registrar at the Drexel University's Atwater Kent Collection and Weatherly Stephan, Head of Archival Collections Management at New York University

Introduction

- Our guest is Adriana Cuervo, the Director of Special Collections and University Archives at Rutgers University Libraries. Adriana has previously worked at the Institute of Jazz Studies at Rutgers-Newark and the Sousa Archives and Center for American Music at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.
- Today, Adriana will be speaking to us about what the Academy of Certified Archivists is, what the ACA's certification process is like and what you can gain from becoming a Certified Archivist.

Discussion

- How has being a Certified Archivist helped you in your career?
- I saw on the ACA's website that members must retake the exam every five years unless they recertify by petition. What does recertifying by petition entail?

- Does the Academy of Certified Archivists have its own job board?
- If you don't pass the exam, will you be able to retake it in the same year?
- Would you happen to know how many members of the ACA there are?

Announcements

- The Princeton Preservation Group is hosting “Preparing a Palace: Installing Monumental Egyptian Architecture at the Penn Museum” with Julia Commander, the Conservator of Egyptian Collections at the Penn Museum on Zoom on April 16th at 7 pm.
- The final SOURCE meeting of the semester will take place on April 9th at 6 pm. We will be hosting an Alumni Panel with Annamarie Klose, Alisa Kraut and Weatherly Stephan. If you're curious about life after graduation or looking for advice from former M.I. students, please be sure to join us then!
- SOURCE Elections will also be taking place on April 9th. I will send out the application link for open positions soon; please apply if you are interested in being a member of SOURCE's Board in the fall.
